

You may find that during, after, or when anticipating a violent situation, you must leave. You must plan in advance for this situation and here are some ideas:

1. Pack an extra set of clothes for yourself and your children. Store the clothes with a friend or neighbor.
2. Hide some cash in your house in case you need a taxi or bus.
3. In a safe place, keep :

a. Copies of important documents like drivers license or state I.D.	f. Voter registration card
b. You and your child(ren)'s birth certificates or passports	g. Extra keys for the car and house
c. Bank records	h. Title to house
d. Social security numbers	i. Rent or mortgage receipts
e. Health insurance cards	j. Medical records
	k. Title to car
	l. Evidence of car insurance

You may also want to include family photos. It is also important to take your child (ren)'s school records and Individual Education Plan(s).

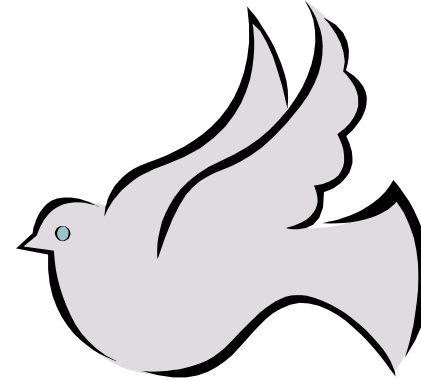

4. Plan with your children in case of a dangerous situation. Identify a safe place for them like a room with a lock or a neighbor's house where they can go for help. Reassure your children that their job is to stay safe and NOT to protect you.

5. Know exactly where you can go and how to get there, even if you must leave in the middle of the night.
